DETAILED ACTIONDrawings

1. Figures 1A-1D should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Applicants Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) FIGS. 1A-1D.

4. AAPA discloses a semiconductor device as claimed. See FIG. 1D, where AAPA discloses the following limitations.

5. AAPA teaches a substrate having a core substrate, comprising:

Art Unit: 2823

a via terminal 11 being formed to pierce the core substrate 10,
wherein the via terminal is configured by electrically and mechanically connecting a front surface side conductive part of the core substrate with a rear surface side conductive part of the core substrate at a thickness directional position of the core substrate, the front surface side conductive part is formed by filling a concave part in a rear surface of the core substrate with a conductor, and the rear surface side conductive part is formed by filling a concave part on a front surface of the core substrate with a conductor.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicants

Admitted Prior Art FIGS. 1A-1D.

8. AAPA discloses a semiconductor device substantially as claimed.

AAPA teaches a substrate having a core substrate, comprising:

a via terminal 11 being formed to pierce the core substrate 10,
wherein the via terminal is configured by electrically and mechanically connecting a front surface side conductive part of the core substrate with a rear surface side conductive part of the core substrate at a thickness directional position of the core substrate, the front surface side conductive part is formed by filling a concave part in a rear surface of the core substrate with a conductor, and the rear surface side conductive part is formed by filling a concave part on a front surface of the core substrate with a conductor. However, AAPA fails to disclose the claimed process. "[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

Allowable Subject Matter.

9. Claims 1-3 and 5-7 allowed.
10. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art does not anticipate forming the core substrate by grinding up to a position immediately before the front surface side conductive part.
11. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
